SWITCHLIGHT GONE "FLYER" WRECKED

M., K. & T. Train Runs Into a Switch at Lewis Station, Mo., and Engineer Is Killed.

CLINTON, Mo., Sept. 22.—Passenger train northbound on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road, known as the "Flyer," was wrecked this morning at Lewis Station by a misplaced switch. The engineer was killed after having reversed his engine, and three others injured.

The dead: JOHN SHANE, Parsons, Kan.; engineer. Injured: T. L. Johnson, Seguin, Tex.; shoulder and arm hurt. Charles Braden, Chanute, Kan.; head cut, arm and wrist hurt. H. Collier, Sedalia, Mo.; fireman; scalded; will recover.

The train was running at the rate of 40 miles an hour when, without warning, it dashed onto a siding and into a string of freight cars.

The switchlight had been removed.

TEAM AND LANDAU STOLEN AT DEPOT

Reward Offered for Recovery of Big Taken on Street in Sight of Two Policemen.

Thomas Wand is wondering who stole his two horses and a landau from in front of Union Station Thursday night. He is wondering to such an extent that he offers a reward to anyone who will tell him about it.

The team, two bays, 15 hands high, and the landau were left in front of 1819 Market street by the driver, F. J. Van Anken, while he went inside the house at that number. The Market street entrance of Union Station was just across the street, and the brass buttons of two policemen were shining in the electric light near by Van Anken thought he was safe in leaving the team for a minute.

Wand reported the matter to the police.

SERVANTS OF PUBLIC NEED HIGH IDEALS

James Bryce, M. P., Author and Statesman, Discusses Presence of Politics in Public Service in Address at World's Fair.

STRIKING POINTS MADE IN ADDRESS BY JAMES BRYCE.

"Appointments to public office should be made by merit and promotion, by seniority of service and merit combined.

"A public servant should be forbidden to canvass, speak or write on any political subject.

"I believe an administration would be more wholesome if its servants were not allowed the right of suffrage.

"The chief danger which seems to threaten political life in our times is the growing power of wealth and the tendency to abuse public authority and public office for the sake of private gain.

"The state ought to represent individual citizens in their highest aspect, in their most earnest hope.

"I believe public officials should be well paid. Because I am earning only $1000 a year is no reason why a man representing me in public office should not be receiving more—say $5000 a year.

"The faithful public servant may save the state $1,000,000 a year."

James Bryce, author of the "American Commonwealth," recognized as one of the most notable contributions to the political literature of the age, and a member of the English Parliament from Aberdeen, Scotland, delivered a brilliant lecture in the Educational building at the World's Fair Thursday evening on the subject of "National Administration."

Briefly Mr. Bryce held that there can be no ideal or even remotely perfect system of government, so long as political influence permeates the public service. This question of civil service, he argued, the most important which concerned popular government.

"By national administration," said Mr. Bryce, "I mean the whole action of the state in maintaining and defending itself and in securing for its members and citizens what it undertakes to do for them. It is that organization which the community has created for the two great purposes of self-preservation and mutual benefit.

"It has four aims:

"First, the defense of the community against domestic foes.

"Second, the protection of the persons or bodies within the government against an internal foe.

"Third, to provide for the members of the community by the maintenance of order and the enforcement of civil rights.

"Fourth, to extend to the members of the community various advantages which they might provide for themselves.

Mr. Bryce cited several incidents showing how the civil service was abused. He once knew a Scotchman, he said, who was a "civil service reformer" from the ground up.

"This man," said Mr. Bryce, "believed in the appointment of capable, vigorous men to office. Now, it so happened that all the capable, vigorous men he could find were his friends and relatives.

"You will find that to be very often the case. No matter how perfect the system, defects are apt to creep into it. Constant vigilance must be exercised.

Summing up the various points of his discourse, Mr. Bryce said:

"Every country which desires to be well administered must keep two things vital. One is to keep its public service pure.

"Of increased temptation, to be well paid. If it is well paid it is sure to attract plenty of ability and ability which may be trusted under an honest and careful system of promotion to find its way to the top.

"The other thing is to make appointments by merit, and promotion by seniority and merit combined. For this purpose it must be kept entirely out of politics. Let admission to the public service be altogether removed from political pressure or legislation and unaffected by the political opinions of candidates.

"Forbid the public servant to canvass or speak or write on any political subject. Teach him to regard himself as servant of the nation and not of the political party in the nation.

"You are no doubt debarred him from one of his privileges as a citizen, but he has other privileges which the ordinary citizen does not possess and his special powers carry with them special disabilities. He must submit to the latter if he is to be trusted in the exercise of the power.

"Grand and wide is the part which the national administration plays in the highly developed modern state, attempting a hundred new tasks and handling sums of money of unexampled magnitude. Because of these great strides in the field of human progress it is necessary that the machinery of government should be worked with a high-minded and a single-minded devotion to the interests of the whole people.

"It is for the people themselves to secure this by showing that keen and sympathetic watchfulness over the administration which the founders of the American republic nearly 80 years ago gave to those simple and homely institutions, the products of the long quiet of English centuries out of which the vast fabric of your present government has grown.

At the conclusion of the address Mr. Bryce held an informal reception and met many of the delegates in attendance on the congress of arts and sciences. Many of them Mr. Bryce had known before.

Mr. Bryce came to America for the first time in 1870 and was at once struck with the prevailing political conditions of the new republic. He read a volume, "Democracy in Government," by a French writer, which pictured America as the ideal of democracy.

Mr. Bryce, after a long stay in the United States, returned to Scotland and the settled determination to state his own views on America. He planned several subsequent visits to the United States before he left out his full scope.

"After my second visit to America," said Mr. Bryce, "I destroyed the notes I gathered on the first, because my observation had become clearer and my ideas on certain subjects more pronounced."

Mr. Bryce wrote the "American Commonwealth" in 1888 and several revised editions of the work have been published since that time. He is about 70 years old. On his present trip he is accompanied by his wife, and both are the guests of Mayor and Mrs. Rolla Wells at their residence, 6282 Lindell boulevard.

Thursday night Mr. Bryce was the guest of honor at the Shaw banquet at the Buckingham Club.

FIVE FIRES CAUSE Police Investigating Cause of Fires in Rooming House.

Police are investigating the origin of a fire which occurred Friday at 229 a. m. in the rooming house at 2706 Lawton avenue occupied by Mrs. R. C. Chase.

It turned in by Israel Compton, 211 Adams street, found five small flames in five rooms widely separated. The various flames were extinguished quickly, the loss not exceeding $50. Mrs. R. C. Chase left the house at 7 a. m., telling neighbors she was going out to the fair to spend the day.

No Politics In Grandjury Room

THAT'S right, Mr. Folk. It reminds us of the Mayfield Woolen Mills Clothing Co., the wholesale cloth and clothing-makers.

"Every man's dollar looks alike" to them—one price to the best judge or the poorest.

They know what is in their goods, for they put it there; their prices are right, for they are the makers, "rock bottom," and they stake their reputation on both quality and price.

They sell Clothing to local consumers at their Retail Store, 826 North Broadway, but fill no retail orders from outside the city.

They believe their facilities for production enable them to put more value in a suit for a given sum than any other makers in the country. Suppose you examine for yourself their suits of quantities like you often see in retail windows marked, "were $35.00 now $25.00"—their one price $18.00, and on down to suits like you often see marked, "were $8.00 now $4.50"—their one price $1.90.

These are their extremes; they have all grades between and at equally money saving prices.

It will pay you to walk from home to buy the underwear they will sell at wholesale prices Saturday.

PARKER AGAIN IS ADVISING WITH LEADERS

Occupies Rooms at the Hoffman House Where He Organized the Successful Campaign Nineteen Years Ago—Spends Two Hours With Senator Gorman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Judge Parker is again in conference here with Democratic leaders. This time he is at the Hoffman House, occupying a suite of rooms near the state committee. The Hotel Astor, where he stopped during his last visit, was too far from headquarters, and the noise on Broadway, which his rooms faced, disturbed his sleep. He does not like to stay in New York.

There is no especial or startling politics in the proceedings yet. Everything important has been settled and only details are left to be attended to. These Judge Parker took up with diligence. He is back in the old headquarters which he occupied 15 years ago when he was chairman of the Democratic executive committee and conducted the campaign that elected David B. Hill governor for the first time.

Congressman Coward, chairman of the national congressional committee, was the first to drop in on the judge. He asked for some financial assistance and that evening Judge Parker and Senator Gorman discussed the progress of the campaign.

There is a general atmosphere of hope and confidence about the Hoffman House. It recalled the campaigns of the 80s, when the Democratic ticket used to be elected. As soon as he can Judge Parker will return to his beloved Rosemont, where there are no trolley cars and where he can swim, farm and enjoy his horseback rides.

BOYS FIND WEAPON; SCUFFLE; ONE DEAD

Stable Hand Held to Await Coroner's Jury Verdict After Killing at Racetrack.

Clifton Snow, 17 years old, of 206A Kossuth avenue is held as a prisoner at the Sixth District Police Station awaiting a verdict of the coroner's jury, which has begun investigating the death of William Sage, 17 years old, of 3211 Easton avenue, who was shot and killed while engaged in a friendly scuffle with Snow over the possession of a revolver.

Both boys were employed as stable hands at the Fair Grounds racetrack, Warne and Kossuth avenues. At 10 o'clock on Thursday night, they were playing about the stable. About the same instant both seized a revolver. Kossuth acted and left in the stable, and both made a run for it.

Sage reached the weapon first and was putting it in his pocket when Snow caught hold of the butt of the revolver. A struggle for possession followed, during which the weapon was discharged.

With the cry, "I'm shot," Sage fell to the floor.

Snow, badly frightened, ran to the stable. Sage was dead before help reached him. The bullet pierced his heart.

THREE INJURED IN COLLISION

In a collision on the Pike loop of the Transit Co. near the World's Fair between an eastbound Page avenue car and an Easton avenue car three persons were injured Thursday evening.

Charles McQuay, aged 12, of 2747 Manchester avenue was cut about the face and bruised, and R. M. Soley, aged 22, of 212A Easton avenue, was cut in the left arm and received bruises. A woman about 40 years old, who refused to give her name, was cut about the head by flying glass.

The injured person was taken to their homes. The driver of 2119 Olive, who was in charge of the Page avenue car and A. O. Norris of 628 Cottage Grove avenue was motorman on the Easton avenue car, which was derailed.

INNOCENT VICTIMS OF WAR

Four Traders Came Near Starvation When Deserted by Ship Fearing Russian Fleet.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 23.—On the verge of starvation and threatened with scurvy, at a lonely trading post on the Kamchatka peninsula, four white persons, a woman, a child and two men, and a Japanese fireman were found when the schooner Emily Claudina reached Uka on June 23. The survivors were conveyed to Nome and there transferred to the steamship Victoria, which has just reached port.

The party consists of Cecil Meares and Valentine Kocesak and his wife and child. Meares has been engaged in trading with the Siberian natives for furs and whaling for several years. Kocesak acted as his assistant.

Last year Meares' employees chartered a Japanese vessel at Yokohama to take the party to their destination on the Kamchatka peninsula. After their arrival there the war broke out between Russia and Japan and the Japanese merchantmen did not care to venture into Siberian waters.

The World's Greatest Skin Soap.

The World's Sweetest Toilet Soap.

Sale Greater than the World's Product of Other Skin Soaps.

Sold Wherever Civilization Has Penetrated.

Millions of the world's best people use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings and chafings, for annoying irritations, or too free or offensive perspiration, for ulcerative weaknesses, and many sensitive, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, especially mothers, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery.

Cuticura Soap combines delicate emollient properties derived from Cuticura, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odors. No other medicated soap ever compounded is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Thus it combines in one soap at one price the most effective skin and complexion soap, and the purest and sweetest toilet, bath and nursery soap.

GOVERNOR DEMANDS ANTI-LYNCHING LAW

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 22.—Gov. Terrell is much exercised over the possible results of frequent lynchings in the state and he gave out the following interview:

"The people of Georgia should realize that unless these lynchings are stopped there is grave danger of their leading to legislation by congress which would take the matter out of our hands and cause offenders to be tried in the United States courts. Of course this would be an interference with state rights, but a Republican congress would seek to justify it on the ground that the state courts had failed to afford a remedy.

"The governor of Georgia, under our present laws, is powerless either to punish officials who are derelict in the performance of their duties or to enforce the laws against the leaders of mobs. These are matters which are entirely in the hands of the grand juries and the courts, and over these the governor has absolutely no authority. There should be a modification of our laws providing some remedy and placing such matters in the hands of the governor or with the supreme court of the state."

These are all good reasons for the enduring popularity of The Model and its methods.

Men's Suits

As a fair illustration of this store's underselling we submit for your consideration today an exceedingly popular line of Men's Suits at a popular price, $14.75. The fabrics from which you may choose are Fancy Worsteds, Blue Serges, Black Thibets and Unfinished Worsteds, in black, blue, brown and fancy patterns; also fancy Scotchies in gray mixtures and all the popular brown effects; the coats are cut in both single and double-breasted styles, and the linings, trimmings and tailoring are of a very superior order; in all sizes, including extra large. Without fear of the result, we invite you to come and inspect and compare these values with those obtainable in other stores. We know they are the best Suit values in town.

$14.75

OTHER SUITS AT $9.75 and $11.50.

Youths' Suits

This store is popular with young men for the reason that they can always find here just the styles they like best. The line of Young Men's Suits we show at $14.75 is exceptional in both quality and style. They come in all the newest fabrics, in almost every conceivable shade and coloring and are made up in stunning double-breasted as well as single-breasted styles with wide, athletic shoulders and collar that fits the neck perfectly; the trousers are cut full in thigh and knee and taper gracefully to the bottom; all sizes from 14 to 20 years. Our word for it, these suits can't be matched anywhere.

$14.75

OTHER SUITS AT $9.75 AND $11.50.

MEN'S HATS

Let us tell you of the merit of our $2.40 Hat. Of course, we carry all good grades, at prices ranging from $1.00 to $5.00, but we want to call your special attention in this ad to our splendid showing at $2.40. They are made of a fine quality of fur felt, and come in shades of black, brown, nutria, pearl, umber and eury—Alpine, Pan-Tourist and other popular wide-brim effects, as well as all the leading blocks in stiff hats. We can fit any head and will be glad to fit yours tomorrow with the best all-around hat value you ever bought.

$2.40

A Sale of Suits

Tomorrow we will sell a limited number of Men's Suits at an exceptional price—$8.75. They are made of fancy all-wool Cassimere, in all the neat and natty brown effects. The coats are cut in single-breasted style, with fine broad shoulders, wide collars and lapels, and lined with all-wool serge; the trousers are shapely, and strongly and durably made; in sizes to fit regulars, stout and slims. You should not fail to get one of these extraordinary bargains. The lot, which is not large, by the way, will be on sale tomorrow, or until all are gone, at the phenomenal price.....

David Belasco Is Coming

DAVID BELASCO
OF THEATRE & MUSIC

David Belasco, the New York theatrical manager and playwright who is producing "The Darling of the Gods" at the Imperial Theatre during the last four months of the World's Fair, will be in St. Louis within a few days. Mr. Belasco, as announced some time ago, will come to consult with Blanche Bates regarding a new play for her after Dec. 1, when the Japanese drama now running in St. Louis will likely end its career.

Next year the managers of Forest Park Highlands will operate four parks—the St. Louis garden, a fine park in Kansas City called Forest Park, East End Park in Memphis, which has already a good season to its account, and a new park in Louisville, which will be the largest summer garden in the South. It has a bathing beach and other natural attractions. Col. Hopkins opened his new Louisville house, devoted to exclusive vaudeville, last Sunday.

Miss Maud Gray, the understudy for Miss Merton in the part of Dixie in the Music Hall "Louisiana," has received a flattering offer from Henry W. Savage to join one of his new companies. Inasmuch as Miss Gray has just started a course of study with Miro Delamott which will carry her up to the close of the World's Fair, she has not decided as yet whether to accept or not. Miss Gray is one of the prettiest and most talented of the "Louisiana" chorus girls, and her work during the past four months gives promise of a future.

Harry Hermesen, who has succeeded W. H. Sloan in the part of the grotesque traveler in "Louisiana," at Music Hall, is filling his third engagement as Sloan's successor. He succeeded Sloan in two of the Hoyt comedies and "The Girl from Paris." Hermesen is a St. Louis boy who has risen rapidly on the stage, and is an up-to-date funny man.

That sovereign of laughter, "The Sultan of Sulu," with his retinue of pretty wives, native dancing girls, soldiers, sailors and courtiers and visiting Americans will hold court at the Century Theater for one week, beginning Sunday, Sept. 25.

The opening of the German Theater has been postponed till Sunday, Oct. 9, after which day the season will run on uninterrupted at the Olympic Theater till the close. The change had to be made on account of the arrival of the big Ben Hur production, for which the stage must be set Sunday, Oct. 2. The opening play will be the new farce, "Der Detective" ("The Detective"), in which the entire company with its new members and old favorites, will present itself. Much interest is centered in the new juvenile, Christian von Stahl, a member of the German nobility, who has chosen a stage career. He will accompany Hans Loebel to this side of the Atlantic. Mr. Loebel, the popular comedian of the German stock company of last year, has been traveling in Germany, and has been commissioned to bring a new juvenile. This sprig of aristocracy, a clever actor besides, it is said, is Mr. Loebel's choice for the important parts of the juvenile.

Forest Park Highlands closed its gates Saturday, after a prosperous season. The highest class of vaudeville was offered from week to week and many attractions seen that do not generally come to summer gardens. A. C. Stuever, president of the Highlands Amusement Co., gathered all his friends and employees around him after the performance last night and toasts were spoken and good healths drunk till the early morning.

The Globe Theater on Franklin avenue has reopened its fall season with continuous vaudeville. This popular little house is under the management of H. E. Rice, who is well known to the theatrical profession in St. Louis. Commencing Sunday afternoon it offers Zhardna in a novelty dance on the style of Papina; Lulu Beselman, in illustrated songs; Dan Morris, German comedian; J. T. Lovey, in a comedy sketch; Annie Hindle and Lillie Clayton, serio comic songs, and the kinetograph.

MCCARTHY FUNERAL DELAYED.

The funeral of David P. McCarthy, which it had been announced, would be held this afternoon, has been postponed on account of the lateness of the train carrying the body from Fort Worth, Tex. Services will be held on Monday morning at 9:30 in St. Francis Xavier's Church, Grand and Lindell boulevards.

Mr. McCarthy was prominent in live-stock circles in the West, having owned and managed a large ranch in Oklahoma. He was the youngest son of the late Michael McCarthy, who was for years connected with the Armour Packing Co.

PARTICULAR AND SOUND-MINDED MEN WHO SEEK

Clothes of Quality and Thorough Goodness

Clothes of expression and Fashion, and values of unmatched merit, will come direct to Famous again this season for their Fall Apparel. For thirty-three years Famous has been clothing the men of St. Louis. That we've won and justly maintained the public's confidence is best attested by the tremendous growth of this clothes store. It has always been and still is our constant aim to permit no customer to harbor feelings of dissatisfaction. If a purchase ever proves unsatisfactory, you have but to acquaint us with the facts and we will deem it a pleasure to rectify matters. This liberal and fair dealing method has been an important factor in the upbuilding of this wonderful clothing department of ours.

The cleverest Fall products of America's master tailors are now housed here—all the new styles, pattern effects, fabrics and colorings are represented in varieties as vast as men's fancies. Visitors in the city should make it a point to join the thousands of patrons who will invade this section Saturday.

GIRL VICTIM TELLS THRILLING STORY OF BALLWIN AUTO WRECK

Lulu Marquitz Gives First Complete Account of Midnight Accident on the Manchester Road in Which She Suffered Serious Injuries.

Miss Lulu Marquitz, the young lady who was seriously injured in the midnight automobile wreck on the Manchester road near Ballwin, in which Chaffeur Jack W. Killen was killed a week ago, has told those about her sick bed the first complete story of the thrilling ride which preceded the tragedy.

Miss Marquitz is still at the home of Dr. M. W. Claire in Ballwin, where she was taken after the accident. Her condition is still extremely critical, and it will be several weeks before she can be removed to her home at 1054 Leonard avenue.

Her sister, Miss Nellie Marquitz, who was the least injured of the auto party, is at her home, where she went the day following the accident.

"Edward Parkhurst and Mr. Killen called upon us about 9 o'clock that night," said Miss Lulu Marquitz in recounting the events of the ride. "Mr. Killen had to return to the automobile shelter before he went out, so Mr. Parkhurst and Nellie and I waited until he returned, about an hour later. When he came we thought it was too late to go out. Mother did not want us to go, because when he left, father, who is a traveling salesman, had forbidden us to be out late. We finally decided to go for a short spin, however, and we all climbed into the big machine."

"When we struck the hard macadam we just whirled along, and, as the fields on each side slipped past, I felt that I wouldn't have missed the ride for anything. About eight miles out we saw another machine, and, when we came up, they hailed us. It was Fred Lau and Hurt Laval. The two young ladies with them were Miss Margaret Reeder and her cousin, Miss Thoo Morney. They live at 104 North Leffingwell avenue. We told them we were going to Manchester and asked them to join us. They said all right and we started again. We went on ahead and then suddenly the lamps on the machine commenced to give out. I guess the boys had forgotten to put in new carbide when we started. We kept on, for we thought we could get more carbide in Manchester. When we arrived there all the business places were dark."

"We went to the home of a young lady friend to take her on to Ballwin, where we thought we might find the carbide we wanted for the lamps, but she was not at home or had gone to bed. By this time the other party had come up, and they said they would go on with us. From Manchester on we had to use the oil lamps, and as they are not much good it was very dark in some places along the road. As we didn't want the ride home spoiled for want of light, we decided to go on to the next town, Ellisville, and streets singing, and when we couldn't get the carbide we decided to start for home with the oil lamps."

"We started, and the others waited until we were about a half mile ahead to keep out of the dust, and they came on. It was very dark in some places, and as the little specks, but we knew that Mr. Killen knew the road, and were not afraid. As we went on, I thought I heard a little, though I guess we were still going 12 or 15 miles an hour. Then suddenly in the darkness ahead Mr. Killen seemed to see something. I saw him put on the brakes and looked to see what it was. There almost in front of us it seemed I could see the outline of a farm wagon collision. The turned off into the grass at the side of the road and tried to stop. The wheels were locked and we were thrown forward. Then the big machine began to slide over the wet grass. We thought there might be a slight incline and the machine would come to a stop."

"Suddenly we shot forward. The earth itself going up, as I thought. That was the last I knew. I have some confused recollection of someone calling and of the cold, wet ground, but that was all."

"Next morning I awakened up here in a strange room and I couldn't understand where I was. For an instant I thought I home, and then I remembered what had happened, realized that I was hurt and became unconscious again. Nellie was here and also those who were in the other machine. Mr. Lau and Mr. Laval to go back to Ballwin and telegraph my step-mother. They telegraphed that the machine had broken down and that we were in a bad way. She did not hear anything of the accident until that night when Nellie went home."

"My father came out the Sunday following the accident and since then they all have been out here a number of times, with the exception of Mr. Lau and Mr. Laval. I have not seen them since the accident."

Biggest West of the Mississippi.

A vote for Cook is an anti-Folk vote whether you vote for Folk or not.

If the big stick is an honest weapon, why doesn't Mr. Cortelyou let us hear the swish of it?

The members of the Congress of Arts and Sciences are submitting to the public some excellent Democratic campaign documents.

The police find no difficulty in arresting the wrong men for the murderous assault on Election Judge Beck, but they cannot see the right men.

The assistant secretary of the treasury isn't quite sure that he should take orders from the Tobacco Trust. Why doesn't Mr. Cortelyou tell him how the account stands?

COOK AND BRIBERY.

Bribery being the issue in Missouri this year, Democrats who follow the lead of Joseph W. Folk in the anti-bribery crusade must scratch Sam B. Cook, whose record shows him to be on the other side.

Cook's place in the boodle field is shown by the Speed-Lyons case. W. P. Lyons introduced a bill in the Fortieth General Assembly putting the office of coal oil inspector at St. Louis, then enjoyed by Richard B. Speed of Nevada, Mo., on a salary basis. The office was a sinecure, netting the incumbent the sum of $12,000 or $14,000 a year in fees. It was, in fact, a huge graft and the Lyons measure was in the public interest. Speed objected to this. He went to Cook and told him that Lyons wanted $800 to drop the bill. Cook said: "Don't give up a cent," but changed his mind and the money was paid over at the Planters' Hotel in St. Louis. This is Cook's version of the story. Lyons' friends say that during the session of 1899 he received a telegram from Cook asking him to come to St. Louis. When he arrived he went up to Cook's room and was asked by the secretary of state upon what terms he would agree to suppress the bill. Speed entered the room and it was agreed that the sum of $800 should be paid. Cook and Speed left Lyons waiting in the room; they returned with the $800, which was handed to Lyons.

The story has been told many times, but its repetition is necessary until every voter in the state is familiar with it.

Had the revelation of this deal been made a few months earlier an indictment must certainly have followed; but the statute of limitations was a bar, and instead of being indicted Cook was nominated.

His nomination was an attempt to "plug" reform, to prevent Folk pursuing the work in the governor's office which he had done so successfully as circuit attorney.

The moral is: Scratch Cook.

No voter who believes in honesty in public business can vote for Cook.

No Democrat who sympathizes with the circuit attorney's work in St. Louis can straddle from Folk to Cook.

Col. Walbridge is divinely right when he says that honesty generally prevails. But the question is: Does it prevail in the right place at the right time?

PAYING TOMMY TO GO TO SCHOOL.

Daniel H. McAbee, an Indianapolis factory inspector, suggests that instead of coercing truants, the state should pay all children between the ages of 6 and 14 to go to school.

Missouri has, in round numbers, 650,000 children attending school. It is not likely that Tommy and Gracie, when the mercenary instinct had been aroused by offer of wages for going to school, would be satisfied with less than a penny a day. So it would cost the state at least $650,000 a day to begin the experiment.

But, the child being father to the man, and the fathers of most public school scholars being ambitious, Tommy and Gracie and the other infant wage-earners would soon become discontented with this paltry allowance. Unions would grow up; the walking delegate in knee pants and short skirts would arise in the land, and strikes would become prevalent in the school-houses, recurring with the opening of each term. Contracts would have to be made, and Tommy and Gracie would have to be locked out in case there was "nothing to arbitrate."

Of course, the movement would extend to the home. Tommy would bring in no kintling and Gracie would refuse to help mamma, unless the scale of wages for such work were satisfactory.

Inspector McAbee is requested to reconsider his proposition. It is evident that a money bonus is out of the question. Why not compromise on an apple for the boys and a cake of chewing gum for the girls? Let the experiment be tried in Indianapolis, and let Mr. McAbee report the result one year hence.

ELEVATION OF LABOR.

The Republican National Committee is sending out a pamphlet, entitled "Elevation of Labor," containing a speech of Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio, wherein he tries to show that the elevation of labor is due largely to the legislative and executive labors, the kindly care and attention of Theodore Roosevelt, Republican candidate for President.

What rot! The effort of legislation that labor has gained has been due to the efforts of laborers. It has come from the demand of laboring men for justice. The progress of labor has come from the ranks of labor. All that men who are not themselves toilers with their hands have done for labor is to support its demands for justice and lend a helping hand towards realizing its just demands.

The intervention of President Roosevelt in the coal strike is cited as one of his valuable services to the cause of labor, but Mr. Roosevelt did not intervene in that strike in behalf of the strikers, or because he thought their cause just, but in behalf of the public which was suffering from a lack of coal and from exorbitant prices of coal. Mr. Roosevelt responded to a great public demand that the coal strike be stopped, regardless of the merits of the controversy.

The idea that labor needs coddling and elevating and that politicians who coddle it ought to be rewarded with official promotion is nauseating to honest workingmen. It is one of the basest forms of demagogism. Justice, equality under the laws, is all that labor wants or is entitled to.

The Chicago City Council has not only ordered the railway companies to erect safety gates at all grade crossings, but the street railway companies are required to install derailing switches at all such crossings. The people of Chicago have made up their minds that grade crossings must go; but in the meantime all temporary safety expedients are to be enforced. The condition is precisely similar in St. Louis. The grade crossings must go, but until this can be accomplished, the present laws in the interest of public safety must be enforced by the police. Let no grade crossing be neglected.

OUR DAILY DISASTERS.

Leslie's Monthly calls attention to the fact that America is becoming a land of disasters. It cites such recent horrors as the Iroquois Theater fire, the Gen. Slocum holocaust, the numerous and ghastly railway wrecks, and the daily wiping out of life by street cars.

As an example of how unexpectedly these disasters occur, the sudden snuffing of nine lives in Boston on Wednesday may be cited. A street car ran over a small wooden case, which had dropped from a wagon. Such a thing might happen anywhere. But the box was full of dynamite. The car was blown to pieces, and besides the nine passengers killed by the explosion, 40 were injured, several of them seriously.

The authorities have started an "inquiry" into this case. But what will come of it? Will anyone be punished? What has come of the inquiries into former disasters? Has anyone who was responsible suffered?

More than this, has any real lasting public sentiment been aroused which will cause an alertness and a severity of action towards preventing further slaughter? How many death traps are there in St. Louis at this moment? How many unsafe buildings? How many tinderbox steamboats are running? How many cases of explosives are being carelessly and illegally stored and handled? Do the authorities know? Have they any effective means of knowing? Do they care? Does the public care?

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

DANGEROUS CAR SPEED.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Where, oh where, were the fenders when the Japanese lady was run down last night? Probably not yet ordered. The police will caution no motorman; men who ride free will take no chances of offending their friends. If the speed order is to be enforced begin at Spring and Finney avenues; there is a forty-mile-an-hour run every minute in a day from Grand to Vandeventer avenue without stopping, as a German friend of mine puts it. The speed at which the cars are run down this hill and across Spring avenue is frightful. SENEZ.

FUNDS FOR IRELAND.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
When I read of the collection for the Irish cause I sincerely hoped they would receive the money which has been so generously given. We have had men to come here with polished tongues and extract money from our well-meaning and liberty-loving people for good motive apparently. They live in luxury while collecting and help themselves so liberally that when the fund reaches Ireland it is demolished beyond recognition. A. C. B.

COMMENTS BY A TRAVELING MAN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Having read with interest the reports published in the Republic of Mr. Deane's meeting yesterday in the town of Carbondale, Anna and here, I beg to say the crowds were mostly in the minds of the persons who reported the meetings. In old-time Republican traveling men could get a larger enthusiasm than we do not like to see. The halls were comfortably filled, but as I heard, largely by Democrats out of curiosity to see the candidate for governor. The large (?) crowds at the stations were persons who were going away and by those awaiting the return of friends. The World's procession was a very fine one. It proceeded up to the courthouse where it consisted of the band and two carriages that contained the speakers and members of local committees. Were our "Jo" to have such great gatherings, would think that the Missouri voters were having a big attack of apathy. Why, even old Gamble Bill or Rakehell Bill could get a larger turnout, although he is a back number, I hope. The great majority of Democratic and Republican traveling men who vote in grand old Missouri will on election day use their pencils and put a black mark through the names of Mr. Alton and Mr. Aldrich. Traveling men as a rule are for honesty in politics as well as business, and will be lined up against fraud and hoodlums, not voting for anything or person who has been indicted for a crime. A ST. LOUIS TRAVELING MAN, Cairo, Ill.

RECREATIONS OF CABINET MINISTERS.

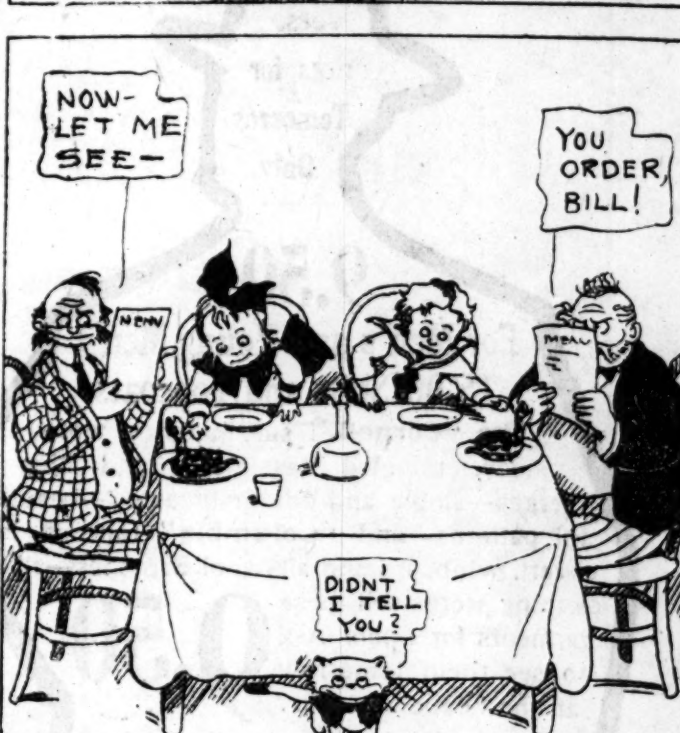

From the London Chronicle.
It is probable that the recreations of the cabinet ministers who have gone holiday-making are, however, frivolous, slightly dissimilar from those of their 18th century predecessors. Fox, for instance, spent a morning in Bond street counting out against the Prince of Wales; and as he chose the sunny side of the street for his ride to the prince's one and won the game. Lord Oxford, too, riding in his coach with Swift, used to count poultry with him all the way up to town and whoever counted first, or saw a cat, or an old woman, was the loser. Lord Bolingbroke, on the other hand, used to go to the opera and discuss European affairs, was at once interrupted by Oxford's saying, "Swift, I'm up! There's a cat!" and left them in disgust. As Swift wrote, "Such cattle often entertains my lord and me as far as Staines."

A TRIFLE INCONSISTENT.

From the New York World.
The Colorado Republican platform indorses Gov. Peabody and all his acts, including the closing of mines for employing union workers, the banishment of the mine and without trial, and the election of only elected public officials, and then humorously condemns this sort of lawlessness which would turn popular government into irresponsible despotism, and affirms "the right of every person, whether union or nonunion, to labor when, where and for whom he pleases."

NEW YORK WORLD'S EDITORIALS TODAY

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

In his letter of acceptance, Mr. Fairbanks says "me too" to President Roosevelt in all respects but one. But that one is significant. Mr. Fairbanks adopts the Democratic policy in the matter of Canadian reciprocity. He attempts to prove that the Republican party has always favored that policy and expresses the hope that the governments of Canada and of the United States will resume negotiations on the subject.

The Democratic national platform expressly favors "liberal trade arrangements with Canada." The Republican platform does not mention that subject. Evidently the revolt that has scared Lodge off his lofty perch in Massachusetts has spread far enough to frighten the Republican national leaders. Probably if President Roosevelt had his letter of acceptance to write over again he also would be discovered as an enthusiastic advocate of Canadian reciprocity.

THE SMALL FRACTION TO BE WON.

Those supporters of Judge Parker who are discouraged by the odds against them, as shown by the figures of recent elections, will do well to reflect upon the fact that there are a great many voters in this country, and that a very slight change in sentiment is enough to produce tremendous effects in the election returns.

At least 15,000,000 votes will be cast for president this year. The states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, West Virginia and Colorado, added to those carried by the Democrats in the last state elections, would be enough to elect Judge Parker. A change of 33,904 votes, or a little over one-fifth of 1 per cent of the total vote of the Union, would carry these six states.

A change of less than one-third of 1 per cent of the vote of this state alone would wipe out Odell's last plurality in New York.

If Judge Parker's strength does not represent more than these minute margins of votes, the influence of a just cause and a good candidacy has been greatly exaggerated.

THE ITALIANS IN THE UNITED STATES

This Is the Only Country Where Less Than Half the Immigrants Return to Their Own Land—Italians Deserving Brazil and Central America.

That the United States is the only country where more than half the Italian immigrants stay is the rather surprising fact brought out in the recent report of the Italian commissioner of emigration. Here are the figures for two years of departures from and returns to Italy:

Countries.	1902.	1903.
U. S.	161,767	122,000
La Plata	20,303	23,813
Brazil	28,475	29,701
Arg. Rep.	1,018,214	1,050,110

This showing is the more remarkable from the fact that when these people were going out to South America Italian emigration looked like a sawbuck. Ninety-five per cent of Northern Italians—Piedmontese, Lombards, etc.—went to South America. Ninety-five per cent of Sicilians and Calabrians came to the United States. Their paths crossed in mid-ocean. The northern emigrants were bigger, stronger and better educated. Now that they are going back from South America perhaps some of them will come here.

Even now there are more Italians in Brazil than in the United States, which is surprising. The commissioner estimates that there were 1,862,392 Italians living abroad in 1901, 1,983,296 in 1902 and 3,429,016 in 1903.

Of the latter number 654,000 were scattered over Europe; 168,000 were in Africa (Tunis 53,000, Algeria 39,000, Egypt 36,000); 746,000 were in North America (728,000 in the United States and 18,000 in Canada); and 1,829,000 were in South America (182,000

AMAZING GROWTH OF CO-OPERATION

Fifty Thousand Societies Now Share Its Benefits in the United States—Probably 25 Per Cent of the Population of the Country Interested.

(J. M. C. Hampton in the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.)

A few years ago the fruit-growers of California, or at any rate in many of the small towns and villages, realized that they were getting little for their crops; they also realized that they were paying far too much for the supplies which they needed to conduct their business and to live. They formed co-operative societies. They banded together to sell their produce as one man; they bought their supplies by the wholesale for themselves.

Last year 46 societies on the Rockdale co-operative system, and representing societies from Des Moines, Santa Rosa, Sacramento, Oakland and so on through all the California centers, did a business amounting to over $15,000,000. They have formed for themselves a wholesale society in San Francisco.

In the state of Washington there are over 24 successful co-operative societies operating on the same lines, and in such centers as Seattle there are co-operative retail stores with branch establishments in different parts of the city.

In Kansas there are 26 successful co-operative stores now in full blast. In Iowa there are hundreds of co-operative creameries, and attention has been already drawn all over the country to the wonderful achievement of the Rockwell Co-operative Society, formed of farmers, with a membership of a few hundred, at $10 apiece, which did a business last year of $300,000, or, as they figure it, both ways, buying and selling, a business of $600,000, and at a cost of less than 1 per cent. This society has, in fact, done $3,000,000 worth of business in the last four or five years, but it is only in the last year that it has operated a great distributive store.

A western federation of miners has run four quasi-co-operative stores at Cripple Creek, Colo.; the millmen of Monessen, Pa., have started a co-operative store; the Co-operative Creamery Association of Ulster, Mich., did a business of $200,000 last year, bringing an average of 23 cents a pound; the labor unions of Denver have organized a co-operative store; the people of Elwood, Ind., have subscribed shares for a co-operative coal store on their coal; Deposit, N. Y., has a co-operative store on the same lines as those of Delphi and Port Jervis. The last named has accumulated and paid in profits $900,000 in the last 25 years; Montana has a co-operative ranch with 600 shareholders scattered all over the United States, and nearly 150 of whom are women; employees of the Chicago & Alton railway has a co-operative society in Bloomington, Ill.; the labor unions of South Omaha, Neb., have established a co-operative store; the Farmers' Supply Co. is a new co-operative society of Anita, Ia.; Milwaukee has now a large co-operative department store, and a great co-operative enterprise is spoken of for the establishment of branch co-operative stores in various parts of the country; the employes of the shipyards at Newport News, Va., have started a co-operative store; the miners of Ohio have by unanimous vote decided to open several co-operative stores; Lansing, Mich., has a co-operative association with a capital stock of $25,000.

The Central Pomona Exchange at Syracuse, N. Y., and others at Herkimer, Little Falls and other places are doing well. The Herkimer society was organized 12 years ago with a capital of $4000. The stock of goods has been increased each year, and a dividend never lower than 6 per cent has been declared right along, while at the annual meeting last January a dividend of 25 per cent was declared. The sales for the year amounted to $60,000. The Grangers' Mercantile Association of Little Falls recently declared a dividend of 25 per cent. The railway men at Parsons, Kan., have started a co-operative store; the farmers of Albert Lea, Minn., have made a co-operative store; the farmers of Manitowish, Wis., have lately established a co-operative store; the unions of the Black Hills district of South Dakota have started a co-operative store at Lead.

S. D.; Lake Linden Society of Lake Linden, Mich., has just declared its fourth annual dividend of 7 1/2 per cent on purchases and 7 per cent on shares, to be divided among 418 members.

Most of the stores now being established are on the Rockdale system. Membership is obtained by purchase of shares at $5 to $10 apiece, which is used as a fund to buy supplies in quantity, and the profits made out of the saving effected by buying in quantity are divided among the members according to the amount they buy.

Many of the societies and organizations are, however, organized on what is known as the civil service plan, so named after the great Civil Service Co-operative Association of London. Their object is to sell at cost price as near as possible, and a membership is not always the same as a partnership in the business, which is looked upon more or less as an investment, and which investment receives the profits over and above the cost of running the establishment and the low price charged members for their supplies. There are something like 20,000 of these stores at this time of various kinds. There are 500 "co-operative" building and loan associations alone, but these societies are scarcely in operation with all points in their country, and the true co-operative kind; there are 40 fraternal co-operative societies, 200 mutual fire co-operative societies, 600 co-operative creameries and cheese factories and about 300 co-operative telephone companies, the most striking of which is in Michigan, where in one case for $1 a year the farmers are able to have telephone conversations through their own central telephone exchange to all parts of the United States.

There are also many hundreds of co-operative elevator associations, particularly in Minnesota.

There are also many hundreds of co-operative elevator associations, particularly in Minnesota.

FILIPINO SCOUTS GOING HOME

Term of Service Expires for Many and It Is Thought About 100 Will Not Re-Enlist.

The homesick Filipino scouts are going home. Mad. William H. Johnson, in command of the scouts, has received notice from the war department that the time for re-enlistment of 200 of the 416 scouts, whose term of service expires Sept. 30, will be up tomorrow, and those who have not re-enlisted by Sunday morning will be taken back to their homes and families in the sunny islands.

Those scouts who are going are not sorry. Five months in this country, and the long time consumed in the voyage, have made them homesick. It is thought that about one hundred will not re-enlist, and before their term of service expires they will be on boat returning to the islands. Those who re-enlist will receive $100 travel pay from here to San Francisco, and the money is a great inducement to many of the scouts to stay. They will return to the Philippines in January. A parade and review will be held Sunday morning, and decisions whether to go home or remain will be made then.

VIRGINIA DAY IS OBSERVED AT FAIR

Gov. Montague and Staff Are Welcomed by Enthusiastic Throng of Southern Visitors.

GEN. FITZHUGH LEE IS PRESENT

Distinguished Statesman Is Here to Obtain Ideas for Celebration at Jamestown in 1907.

The celebration of Virginia day at the World's Fair Friday began with the arrival at the Parade entrance at 10:45 o'clock of Gov. A. J. Montague and his staff, the Virginia state commission, the Virginia Society of St. Louis and the alumnae society of the University of Virginia. They were met by the escort of honor, consisting of the famous organization of the Virginia National Guard known as the "Richmond Blues," the Stonewall band of Staunton, Va., and a detail of Jefferson Guards.

The parade moved to the Virginia state building along the following route: Through the Plaza of Orleans to Louisiana way, west to the western end of the Machinery gardens, south to the Japanese pavilion, and then south past the Temple of Fraternity to the Virginia building.

Upon arrival at the state building a great crowd of Virginians who had reached the building ahead of the parade set up a great cheer, aided by the throngs that surrounded the building and filled every inch of available space.

From all parts of the great state Virginians have been pouring into St. Louis all week to do honor to their commonwealth on her banner day of the World's Fair, and only the faint strains of "Dixie" heard even in the distance, were needed to kindle their enthusiasm into the loudest of cheers.

The exercises at the Virginia building, an exact reproduction of Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, were given by the Stonewall Band's musical selections. After the invocation by the Rev. Dr. John D. Vincell of St. Louis, President Francis, in a stirring tribute to the state that has given the country so many great and good men, welcomed Gov. Montague and all Virginians to the beauties of the World's Fair, and Gov. Montague followed with an appreciative response.

Music by the Stonewall Band was followed by an address by Dr. Robert C. Atkinson, representing the Virginia Society of St. Louis, and Judge James B. Gantt, chief justice of the Missouri Supreme court, then spoke on behalf of the University of Virginia Alumnae Society.

At the conclusion of the exercises a reception in honor of the noted visitors was held in the grand salon of the state building.

Gen. Fitzhugh Lee at the head of a body of Virginians that touched 12 coaches to transport, is one of the most prominent Virginians at the celebration.

Gen. Lee, who became prominent as American consul at Havana at the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, is to be president of the Jamestown exposition, to be held at Hampton Roads, Va., in 1907. The general promises that the Jamestown exposition will be as important as the St. Louis Fair in proportion to its size.

Gen. Lee and his associates have come to St. Louis to get pointers for the Jamestown show that is to celebrate the centenary of the settling of Jamestown by John Smith and his comrades in 1607. Several weeks will be spent in the study of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

FATHER KIDNAPS HIS OWN SON

The Mother, Who Had Custody of the Lad, Asked Police to Find Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 22.—Frank Wheeler, an 8-year-old boy, was kidnapped by his father this afternoon in the south part of the city while en route home from school. The boy's parents have been separated for some time, but the child made his home with his mother, who did not suspect that the father was in this community.

Other children who were along the street when the kidnapping occurred reported to Mrs. Wheeler that a man, who answered the description of her husband, jumped from a buggy and grabbed the boy in his arms, and that after they had emitted a cry for help, the man placed his hand over his mouth and hurried back into the buggy, driving rapidly away.

The police and sheriff's force were notified, and, with the aid of telephone communication, traced the man and boy beyond Woodside, eight miles south of here.

SCHOLMATES MEET: ARE WED

After a separation of 12 years, during eight of which they lost sight of one another, Miss Mary Luella Kirker, 2416 Independence avenue, Kansas City, and Robert Gibson of Bisbee, Ariz., met in St. Louis Thursday morning and were married a few hours later at the home of Mrs. F. M. Wilcox, 144 Temple place.

Mr. Gibson and his bride attended the same district school in Boone, Vernon county, Missouri, when they were children. Gibson went West after graduation, remaining there until a longing for the sweetheart of his school days prompted him to locate her and propose.

The couple will remain in St. Louis for a few days to see the World's Fair, and then return to Bisbee.

The ceremony was witnessed by Miss Minnie Donaldson, 221 Agnes avenue, and Miss Louise and Miss Agnes Johnson, 920 East Fourteenth street, all of Kansas City.

FETTERS TAKEN AS SOUVENIR Patient at City Hospital Carries Strange Memento on Ankle. A new form of the souvenir habit has come to light at the City Hospital.

Around the ankle of P. O'Brien, a former patient, who entered the hospital yesterday, was found a strap with which he had been secured to his cot when a patient. How he managed to smuggle it out of the place is not known, but he refused to sign any reason for having it, except that he wanted "something to remember the place by."

The strap was locked on his ankle, and although he could easily have cut it off, he had worn it for several weeks.

WATCHMAN SLEEPS, PRISONERS ESCAPE

Make Enough Noise to Attract Attention of Other Hospital Patients, But Guard Doses On.

William Gentry and Frank Kirby, two workhouse prisoners, escaped from the City Hospital at 11 o'clock Thursday night by smashing the lock on the outer door of the cells with a station and an iron bolt and scaling the wall of the courtyard. The escape was made while John Davis, the night guard, was at supper. A patient had been left on duty as watchman, but he went to sleep.

The lock-breakers made so much noise that several of the patients called to them to be quiet, but the watchman slept on despite the noise.

Gentry was being treated for rheumatism, and was supposed to be unable to walk. Gentry is 19 and Kirby 21 years old.

PEARY TELLS WHY MEN SEEK THE POLE

Same Feeling That Inspired Columbus Cause Arctic Explorers to Brave Extreme Hardships.

Three thousand persons crowded into Festival Hall Thursday night to hear Lieutenant Commander Robert E. Peary, Arctic explorer and lecturer, and those who wondered at the iron determination of the explorer to reach the pole were told the reasons that have impelled him and others to risk their lives in the icy regions of the North.

"It is the feeling that inspired Columbus, Balboa and Stanley, and which will be in the hearts of a few more men until the earth gives up its last unknown mile," said Lieut. Peary.

"The North Pole is the last geographical prize that the world has to offer man; the prize for which civilized nations have been struggling for centuries, the trophy which the greatest nation will be proud to win."

Lieut. Peary said that four ships of the eight taken by him in the past 12 years into the north had reached Grantland, but this he expects to press to the north, earliest time limit and in the early day-break of February start with an army of Eskimos and sledges over 500 miles of frozen sea in the hope to reach the coveted goal.

The total cost of the expedition, he said, will be about $200,000, all of which the commander expects to raise by popular subscription. Women, he hopes, will be general contributors to this cause, as it was a woman's sacrifice that made the voyage of Columbus to America possible.

The Fair

Will Be Fairer If You Drink ROSE'S LIME JUICE

It enables one to better withstand the sun's scorching rays; counteracts its exhausting influence; invigorates the whole system by its cooling and healthful qualities. Prevents the disagreeable effects commonly caused by a change of water, makes impure water drinkable.

A tablespoonful of Rose's Lime Juice to a glass of water and sweetened to taste, makes a most delicious, wholesome and refreshing beverage. At Soda fountains, or at Drug and Grocery Stores in bottles containing enough to make 15 glasses.

MALARIA IN THE SYSTEM

Holly Springs, Miss., March 24, 1903.
While building railroads in Tennessee some twelve years ago a number of hands contracted fever and various forms of blood and skin diseases. I carried S. S. S. in my commissary and gave it to my hands with most gratifying results. I can recommend S. S. S. as the finest preparation for Malaria, chills and fever, as well as all blood and skin diseases. W. I. McGOWAN.

I suffered greatly from Boils, which would break out on different parts of my body. I saw S. S. S. advertised and after using about three bottles I was cured, and for the last three years have had no trouble whatever. A. W. ZEMKE.
217 Read St., Evansville, Ind.

I began using your S. S. S. probably ten years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good that I have continued ever since using it as a family remedy. It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are needing a first-rate blood purifier, tonic and cure for Malaria.
Arkansas City, Ark. C. C. HEMINGWAY.

Boils, abscesses, sores, dark or yellow spots and debility are some of the symptoms of this miserable disease. S. S. S. counteracts and removes from the blood all impurities and poisons and builds up the entire system. It is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy.

CATARRAH NEED BE NO LONGER SUFFERED.

Catarrh Is a Germ Disease

That Can Be Destroyed and Entirely Driven From the System by the Great Germ-Destroyer.

DE LACY'S CIN-KO-NA AND IRON

We say to you with all honesty and earnestness that if you are suffering from catarrh of the head, ears, throat, lungs, stomach or kidneys, that if you want to be cured, De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron will cure you. This great germ-destroyer has cured thousands who have suffered with catarrh after other remedies and physicians have failed completely. The following letter will be of unusual interest, and should be read by all who suffer from catarrh in any form:

"I have been a sufferer of dry catarrh for several years, and tried everything, but got little or no relief. I had no appetite and my throat would clog up and at times I would cough nearly all night; my hearing was greatly affected, I had no appetite and was generally run down, and was extremely nervous. De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron brought home a bottle of De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron and I took it, and to please him I did, and am so grateful, for before I finished my bottle my cough was entirely gone; my hearing was fully restored, and began picking up in strength and appetite, and now can hardly wait for meal time to come, and I eat heartily and enjoy all I eat. I can truthfully say I never was as well as I am today, and I am sure my catarrh is entirely cured. I now sleep all night without coughing; I eat well; my nerves are in splendid shape, and I certainly feel well. My greatest desire is that others suffering as I did will profit by my experience and be cured. I will only be too glad of an opportunity to answer any questions to those who suffered as I did. Sincerely yours,

Mrs. J. B. WILKERSON,
St. Louis, Nov. 8, 1903. 463 Delmar bl.
"De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron" will do as much for you if you are a catarrh sufferer as it did for Mrs. Wilkerson. All drug stores sell it or a bottle will be sent to you free of charge. MORGAN WILL LEAVE BUSINESS TO SON

"Jack" Morgan, Democratic and Athletic, to Assume Father's Care After Jan. 1.

WILL RETURN FROM LONDON

Wall Street Has Expected Retirement. Financier Has Made Most of His Hundred Million.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., has leased a New York furnished house for four months, and is going to spend the winter here. Mr. Morgan expects to take up the details of the management of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. at the beginning of the new year, when his father will retire from active business, though remaining nominally at the head of the firm for some time. Wall Street heard these facts yesterday, and was not surprised thereat, for Mr. Morgan's retirement has been expected for more than a year.

The great financier has paid less and less attention to his business and more to art and charity in the last two years, and it is said he is now willing to shift a most of the entire responsibility on his son and upon the other partners, of whom he has ten. The Morgan concern is at present composed as follows, the members taking their seniority in the order named:

Men Who Make

Morgan Firm.

J. Pierpont Morgan, George C. Thomas, Edward T. Stotesbury, James W. Paul, Jr., J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., Temple Bowdoin, Edward M. Robinson, Edward F. Whitney, William Pearson Hamilton, Charles Steele and George W. Perkins. Of these only one, young Mr. Morgan, is a member of the stock exchange.

Young Mr. Morgan has had a very thorough training in the banking business ever since he left college. He began his apprenticeship under his father's direction in the New York office where he familiarized himself with every department. He is a young man of much natural ability, and he has received a thorough education. He has none of the bad habits of frivolity that so many sons of great men develop. He was always very methodical, and seems to be anxious to fit himself to succeed his father. Among the clerks he was always popular, because of his affability and his democratic ways. In Wall Street he is known as "Jack" Morgan.

Retires With

Hundred Million.

"Jack" Morgan went three years ago to London, where he began the same course of study in the bank of J. P. Morgan & Co. as he had pursued in the New York office. J. P. Morgan will retire from business with a fortune which is estimated at between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000. While he inherited wealth he may be called a self-made man, because the greater part of his fortune was amassed by himself. His first marked achievement was when he created a market for New York Central stock in London for William H. Vanderbilt. It was because of this that Mr. Vanderbilt presented to him a silver plate worth $50,000. He is a director in 27 companies. J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., is 36 years old, 6 feet tall and weighs 160 pounds. He has a chest measurement of 40 inches, is athletic and fond of outdoor exercise.

STRIKERS FIGHT FOR JOBS

Machinists and Boilermakers Call Off Nine Months' Struggle to Work for Cut Wages.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The nine months strike of the machinists and boilermakers of the Chicago, Lake Shore & Eastern railroad against a ten per cent wage reduction is at an end. The company announced that if the unions would call off their dogs, it would reinstate as many of the former employees as possible at the lower wages. The result was a stampede of more than half of the 400 strikers, which caused fighting and brought out the police. The company hired 100 of the old men and will take on more until full union crews have been engaged. The strike-breakers will be discharged.

Laborer Killed at Quarry.

Louis Ferri, a laborer, aged 35, of 3233 Rutger street, was accidentally killed Thursday afternoon, as told in late editions of the Post-Dispatch, while at work at the Evermann quarry, Grand avenue and Hickory street. Ferri was on the automatic dumping wagon and drove under the crushing bin. His foot interfered with the releasing lever and he was thrown with terrific force against the stone chute overhead, sustaining a fractured skull.

St. Louis Man Is President.

W. R. Edison of St. Louis was elected president of the Associated Fraternities, now in convention in the Temple of Forternity at the World's Fair, during Thursday's session. Other officers elected were: M. L. Campbell, Neenah, Wis., vice-president; Edmund Jackson, Fulton, Ill., secretary; Portland Ore. was selected as the next meeting place. Delegates visited the Pike Thursday night.

Coroner's Jury Blames Wreckers.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 22.—The Illinois Central Diamond Special was maliciously wrecked Tuesday by a person or persons, according to the verdict returned by the jury which held an inquest over Kasman Concoman, who lost his life by jumping from the engine. The verdict recites that the switch had been tampered with, the lock broken, and the switch light thrown away. Local officers and the railroad's detectives have persons under surveillance, but the necessary evidence to warrant an arrest is lacking.

THE MICROSCOPE

Proves That Parasites Cause Hair Loss.

Nine-tenths of the diseases of the scalp and hair are caused by parasitic germs. The importance of this discovery by Professor Unna, of the Charity Hospital, Hamburg, Germany, can not be overestimated. It explains why ordinary hair preparations, even of the most expensive character, fail to cure dandruff; because they do not, and they can not, kill the dandruff germ. The only hair preparation in the world that positively destroys the dandruff parasites that burrow up the scalp into scales called scurf or dandruff, is Newbro's Herculicide. In addition to its destroying the dandruff germ Herculicide is also a delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herculicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Raboteau & Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., special agents in St. Louis.

TRAGIC INSOMNIA

Murderous Rage Caused by Lack of Sleep Proves Fatal to Two People.

A fearful tragedy recently occurred in Philadelphia where a prominent chemist shot both his wife and himself after a desperate struggle. His physicians are reported as saying that the terrible affair was due to mental derangement caused by sleeplessness.

Many suffer from this cause without knowing how to obtain relief while their condition daily grows more desperate. All such will read with interest how Mr. Thomas Hessian, of South Hampton, N. H., finally succeeded in ridding himself of an attack of insomnia which baffled the skill of his physician.

Mr. Hessian is a farmer and is in the habit of retiring very early. It was in April, 1903, that he found he could no longer get the sleep he needed to fit him for his day's duties.

"I would turn from one side to another in bed," says Mr. Hessian, "but I could not get over fifteen minutes' sleep before I was awake again, and when I got up in the morning I was more tired than when I went to bed at night. I consulted a physician, who said I had insomnia. He prescribed for me but his medicine did me no good and I began to feel that I would have to give up work altogether."

"While I was in this miserable state and utterly discouraged, I chanced to see an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and was so impressed by the evident truthfulness of the statements made that I made up my mind to give the remedy a trial."

"It was in June that I took my first dose of the pills. Before I had finished the first box I noticed a slight improvement in my condition, and I continued to use the remedy the benefit became more marked until, when the fifth box was gone, I could enjoy a sound restful sleep and wake up in the morning refreshed and ready to take up my work with my old time energy. My health has since remained excellent. I have a good appetite, strength to do a hard day's work and ability to sleep soundly and to wake up in buoyant spirits."

Insomnia ultimately wrecks health completely. Its earliest manifestations should be checked at once by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which cure all disorders of the blood and nerves. They are sold by all druggists.
